

THE DAILY BEE.
COUNCIL BLUFFS.
WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 28.
OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.
Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.
H. W. TILLOTSON, Manager.

MINOR MENTION.

Reiter, the tailor, for full goods.
Wanted—Good cook at Revere house.
Woman preferred. Best references required.

The revival meetings continue to fill the Methodist church every night with crowds and enthusiasm.
Yesterday a little child of S. Watton was run over by a wagon near the brickyards, and quite seriously hurt.

Chief Skinner has been called to Neola by the news that his brother-in-law, Dan Caney, had recently broken his leg.
The mother of Mrs. Alex. Overt died yesterday morning, of dropsy. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Peter Bechtel yesterday sold his handsome residence on Washington avenue to Mr. Wm. Groneweg, the consideration being $10,000.

B. F. Allison, who was charged with trespass, has been acquitted, it appearing that he had a written contract for the house, and had the right to be there.

E. S. Barnett, the newly-elected street superintendent, yesterday filed with the clerk his bond and oath of office. His bond for $1,000 was signed by George F.
Wright and Frank Evans.

The saloon injunction cases were to be called up in the federal court at De-Moines yesterday. A decision will hardly be given for some time yet, as after the arguments the usual long spell of keeping the matter under advisement will follow.

The Planters hotel now has for the amusement of its guests a lively young alligator from Florida, supposed to be the very one who gave such a scare and chase to Clark, formerly of the Nonpareil, who is now abiding in the orange groves, and wading through the swamps.

"Doc" Scott was before Justice Schurz yesterday on the charge of assaulting George Beaman, a supposed drunkard, on evidence that Beaman had been drinking, and that he struck at Scott, who picked up a chair and threatened to down him with it. Scott was discharged.

Next Saturday evening there is the promise of a rich treat of political oratory, as Col. Henderson and ex-Congressman Horr, of Michigan, are here.
Both are able speakers, and there is no doubt but that they will give a full house. Mr. Horr is especially popular as a speaker, and his witty sallies and keen cutting sayings have made his name a familiar one.

Yesterday the new chief of the fire department, D. F. Eichler, qualified and entered upon the discharge of his duties.
His first act, and one which the public expected, and with which all should be satisfied, was the appointment of John Templeton as assistant chief. This place the department in excellent hands, and the people may breathe easy.

Jo Ross, who has been serving as street supervisor, does not propose to yield very gracefully to the election of his successor, Mr. Barnett, and when asked for some information by Mr. Barnett yesterday, replied that he had not given up the position yet, and would not give any information until instructed by the council to give up. Ross won't be in fashion unless he contests the election.

Inquiry at the clerk's office reveals the fact that Volz, the special policeman who shot a man the other evening, has filed no bond. There is no probability that he will be called to account for the shooting, and it is a matter of wonder that he has not been arrested and the case investigated. If the council will allow men to serve as policemen who file no bonds and who are to go about shooting at men who happen to get drunk, an offense which the mayor does not think it of any account, it is time that some radical change be made. It is understood that the man who was shot is seriously hurt, and it is no sure thing yet that he will recover. The ball has been probed for in vain, and he is confined to his bed, with no immediate prospect of recovery.

The mayor has appointed Charlie Walters as captain of police, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Capt. Hathaway. Having decided on this move, and being inspired by the feeling that he had done a great thing, and inspired by other things, perhaps, he took out his little white flag, and delights to use when all other insignia of power are ignored by the public, and blew it lustily and called the police from far and near, at about the hour of midnight, and bade them to salute their new captain. He then hurried to the newspaper offices to tell them, "I tell you I stand by my friends, don't I?" There's no doubt if it's the friend's turn to treat, Walter is not to be blamed for accepting so easy a position, and will doubtless fill it to suit the mayor, anyway. Walters qualified yesterday, the witnesses being Pat Lacy and J. A. Churchill.

Be sure and ask your grocer for the bread made at Smith & Luerke's bakery, No. 323 Main street. It is the very best made. Try it and be convinced.

Weather Strips.
Weather strips, weather strips, weather strips at W. W. Chapman's art store, 105 and 107 Main street.

The Chinese Crematory in Wyoming.
Chicago Tribune: "Thomas," said the president the other morning, "I think we had better be standing up some line of action in regard to the recent crematory for Chinese that has been established in Wyoming."
"Quite true, Mr. President. But I believe that more properly comes under the department over which Mr. Lamar has supervision," observed Mr. Bayard.
"Not so, Thomas. The Chinamen belong foreigners. I think it becomes us for the department of state. However, we will see Garland about that on his return."

"Well, I will study over the matter. I sometimes almost wish—but no, that would be too bad."

"What is it, Thomas?"

"I was about to observe," remarked Mr. Bayard, with a heavy sigh, "that I sometimes almost wish Mr. Kelley had been a Wyoming Chinaman."

For hardware and house furnishings, get prices of Cooper & McGee, No. 41 Main street.

WANTED—Wheat, corn and oats in car-lots. Liberal advances made on all consignments, by J. H. Fisher, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Omaha, Neb.

A Puzzling Question.
"Mother, don't the angels wear any clothes?" asked a little San Antonio (Tex.) girl of her mother.

"None at all, mother?"

"None at all."

There was a pause, and that little cherub asked:

"Where do the angels put their pocket handkerchiefs?"

If you wish to make legitimately from ten to fifty dollars per day write to Judd & Smith, No. 31 Fourth street, Council Bluffs.

WHY DON'T MEN GO TO CHURCH

A Preacher Who Thinks the Church Is Not the Only Portal to Heaven.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW HOUSE.

Emigration From the State of Mari-mony—The Y. M. C. A. Work—A Variety of Newsworthy Items.

Why Men Are Not Church Goers.
No minister in the city has gained a greater reputation for freely, frankly speaking his mind than Rev. T. J.
Mackey, the pastor of St. Paul's church.
He has been giving lately some Sunday night discourses, which are attracting much attention and exciting much comment. The one given by him last Sunday night especially created a stir among the dry bones. He spoke upon "Why men do not attend church." He handled the subject without gloves, and told some very plain truths, and made some frank admissions which rather shocked some of the older school of church folks.

He lamented the fact that men did not attend church, and that this fact was not only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the old country. In his own parish there were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of this number he could not, by the greatest stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular attendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attendants upon church. Even among the vestment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs, there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not
attend church, and that this fact was not
only noticeable in this country, and
among all denominations, but also in the
old country. In his own parish there
were 120 families, and there were in these
families fully 150 male adults, yet out of
this number he could not, by the greatest
stretch, count more than twenty-five who
could in any sense be called regular at-
tendants upon services, and by a strict
count the number did not exceed fifteen,
or perhaps ten who were regular attend-
ants upon church. Even among the ves-
tment-wearing, elbow-strengthening
for their active interest in church affairs,
there were few who attended, and it was
a rare coincidence when more than two
of them were seen at any one service,
and if it were not for the senior warden
there would be many services at which
not one was visible. Other churches experienced the same state of facts.

He laid stress on the fact that men did not attend church, and that